Q. WHAT'S THE DIFFERENCE ?

This occasionally tossed-out remark denotes an apathetic attitude — but also can lead to reflection on what really is the difference — the changed — in the past school year. What makes this year so much better (or worse)?? It seems as though every AHS annual has the same pictures, only with different names and faces; this theory may be proven wrong within the next few pages. Several answers to the above posed question follow, which typify the many (new) elements of Angola High School.

A. General differences — those prominent on the outside — were in abundance this year. A new principal, a new sign-board, a long-in-coming dress code liberation, curricular additions, plus a change in coaching positions were evident.

A. Changes in attitude, growth, and values of individuals occur with any new school year. A new batch of seniors, juniors, and other underclassmen each make the definite difference. Being in a class jumped up from the year before is a once-in-a-lifetime experience (for most students, that is!) which can be confusing, but enjoyable.

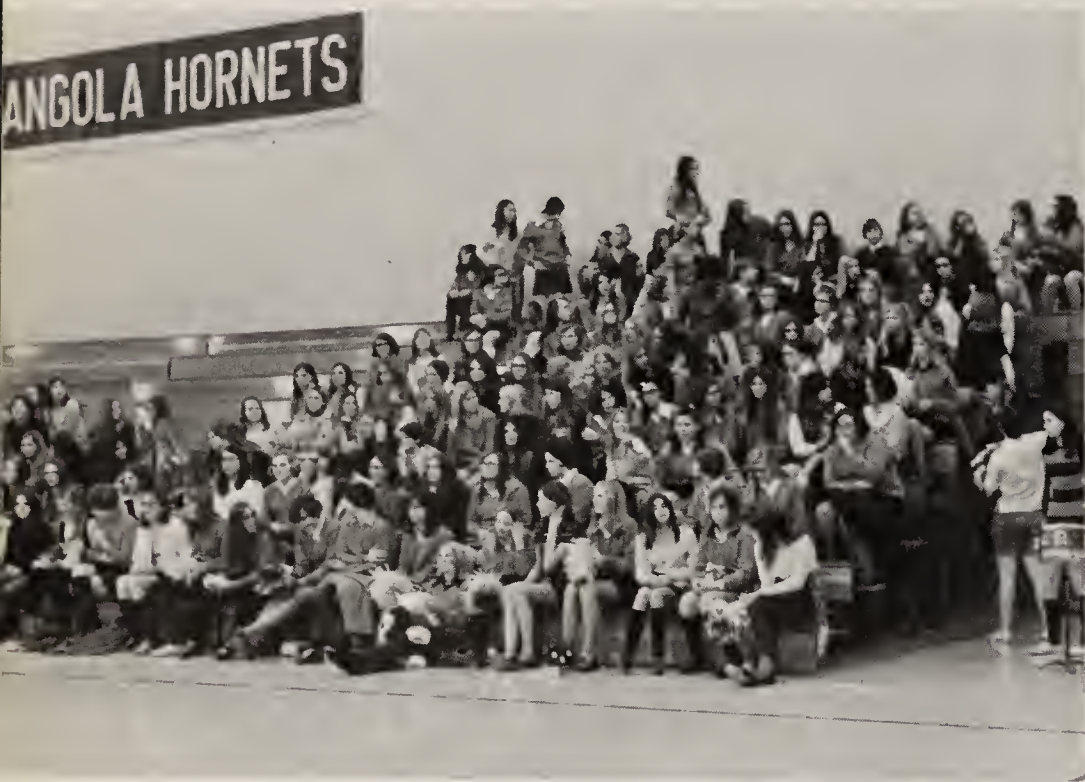

A. The change in student leadership and representation of the school each year inevitably sparks controversial attitudes from others, such as, "I would have done a better job as president than she's doing," or, "Why can't he make all those foul shots?!" and, "I wanted to be a pom pon girl!" Many long hours of preparation and practice back positions held by students, so that when the deserved encouraging applause is given, it heartens those who must "carry the ball alone."

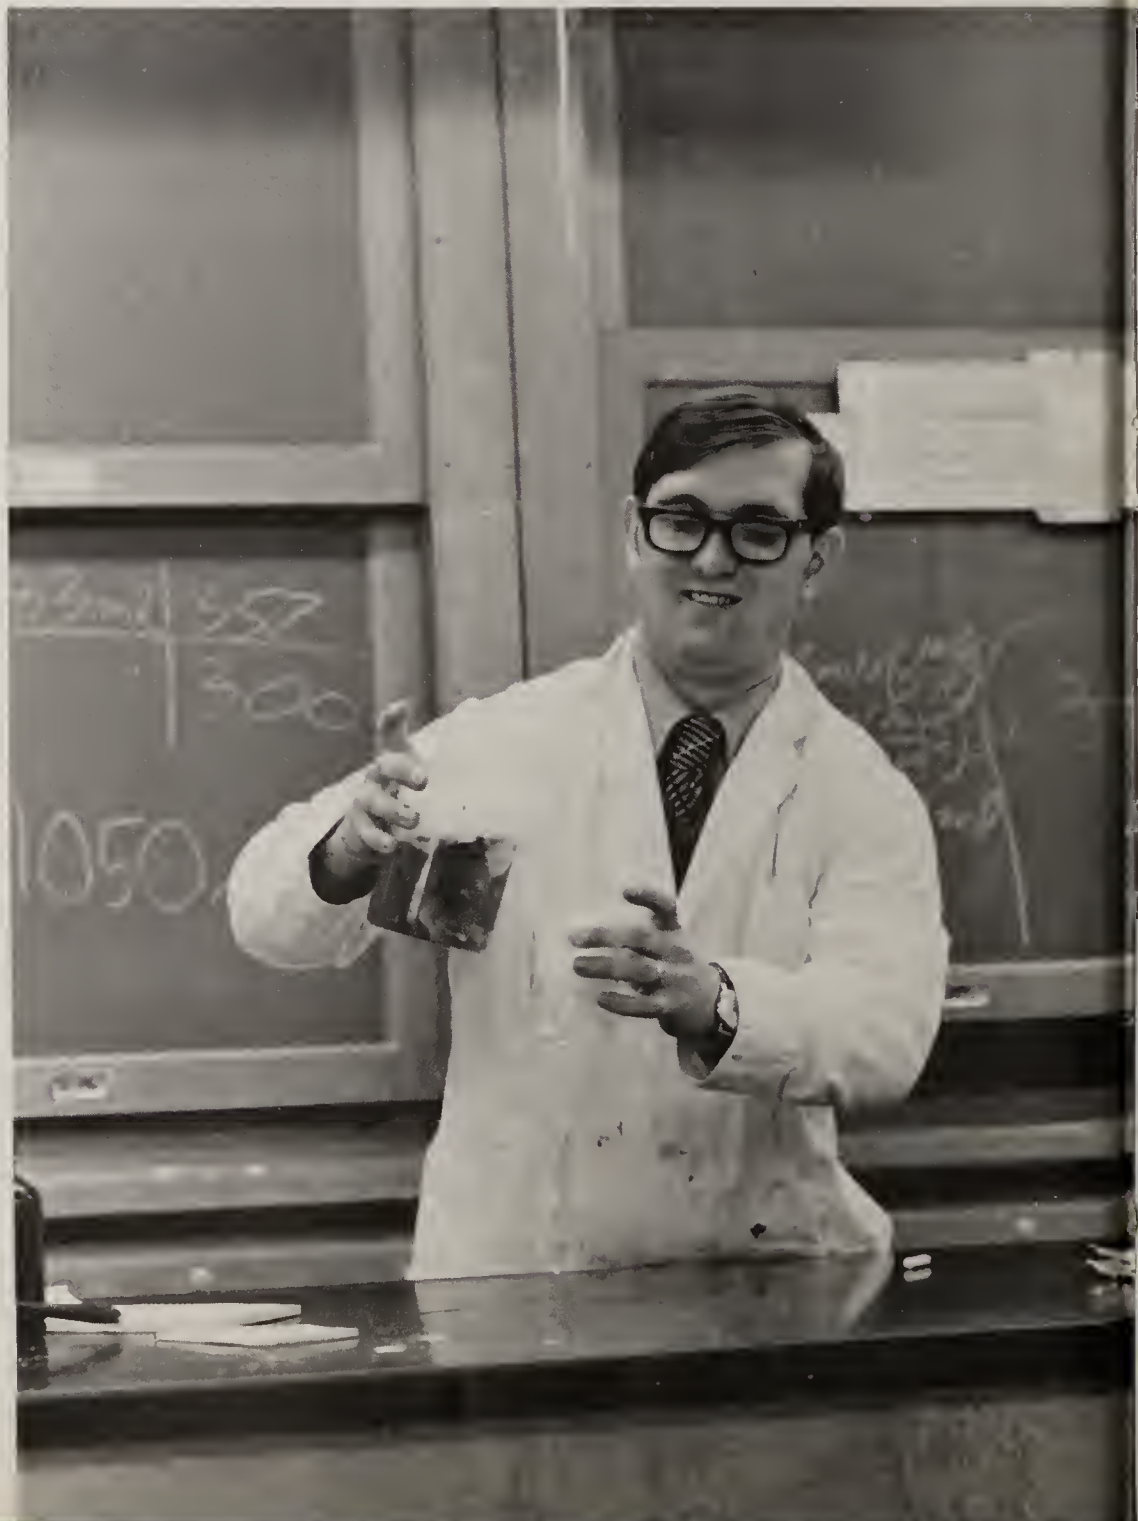

A. However, a great difference is also made by the receiving end. Without the audiences — the club members, the followers, the listeners, the crowds — presidents would have no one to assign projects to, teams would have no one to cheer and groan over their games and meets, and play casts would have no one to perform to. The crowd, oftentimes, contains more entertainment than the program. And, of course, the most important audience of all is . . . the classroom.

A. A difference in attitudes about class-work — the main function of school — comes with each new graduating class, each new junior class, each new sophomore class, or any class with the same graduating year. Some don't care, most do what they have to in order to survive, and, believe it or not, part of the student body actually wants to learn. Whichever the case may be — the curricular and non-curricular activities of AHS are a marked influence, to remain with each student forever.

DRILLING OF FUNDAMENTALS PLUS CREATIVE EXPRESSION HIGHLIGHT ENGLISH CLASSES

What is an English class? It is being exposed to writers, poets, and playwrights whether you like it or not. It is learning to write like Thoreau and talk like Shakespeare. Which is, after all, a step toward greater expression and clearer communication.

Junior and Senior English classes had the opportunity to attend a performance of HAMLET. While Mr. Dougherty's English classes took play production into their own hands in the meantime, and presented Outcasts of Poker Flat, Night at an Inn, and A Man Called Duddy on Activities Day.

MATH DEPARTMENT BOASTS COURSES ON GENERAL AND ADVANCED LEVELS

What is a semi-cubic parabola? Such inquiries puzzle as well as challenge Mr. Dygert's math students. For the first time in seven years, Mr. Hammel is back in the question-asking forces, along with Mrs. Kile, Mrs. Thalls, and Mrs. Schubert.

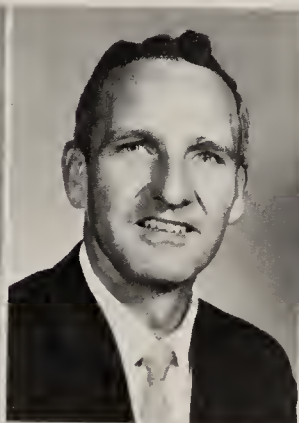

This year's selected members of trigonometry and analytical geometry and Algebra II classes, along with the Senior math class, participated in an examination sponsored by the Mathematical Association of America.

RUSSIAN HISTORY ADDED TO SOCIAL STUDIES CURRICULUM,

What is social studies? It encompasses memorizing dates and understanding philosophy. In addition to regular course work, including a new Russian History class, senior students had the opportunity to visit the state's capitol and a session of legislative action. President Nixon's speech in Fort Wayne was attended, and several excited students saw him at close range.

Social studies classes involve not only regular courses of history, but expansion on subjects such as World Civilizations and Sociology. Health is also a social studies class required of all students prior to graduation.

Classes are supplemented with movies, video-taped programs of recent newscasts, and discussion of current events.

Additions to the curriculum next year involve courses in Consumer Economics and Political Behavior.

SCIENCE EVOLVES AROUND EXPERIMENT AND DISCOVERY

Executing science lab projects includes wearing goggles, using Bunsen Burners, spilling chemicals, copying data, and finalizing the results.

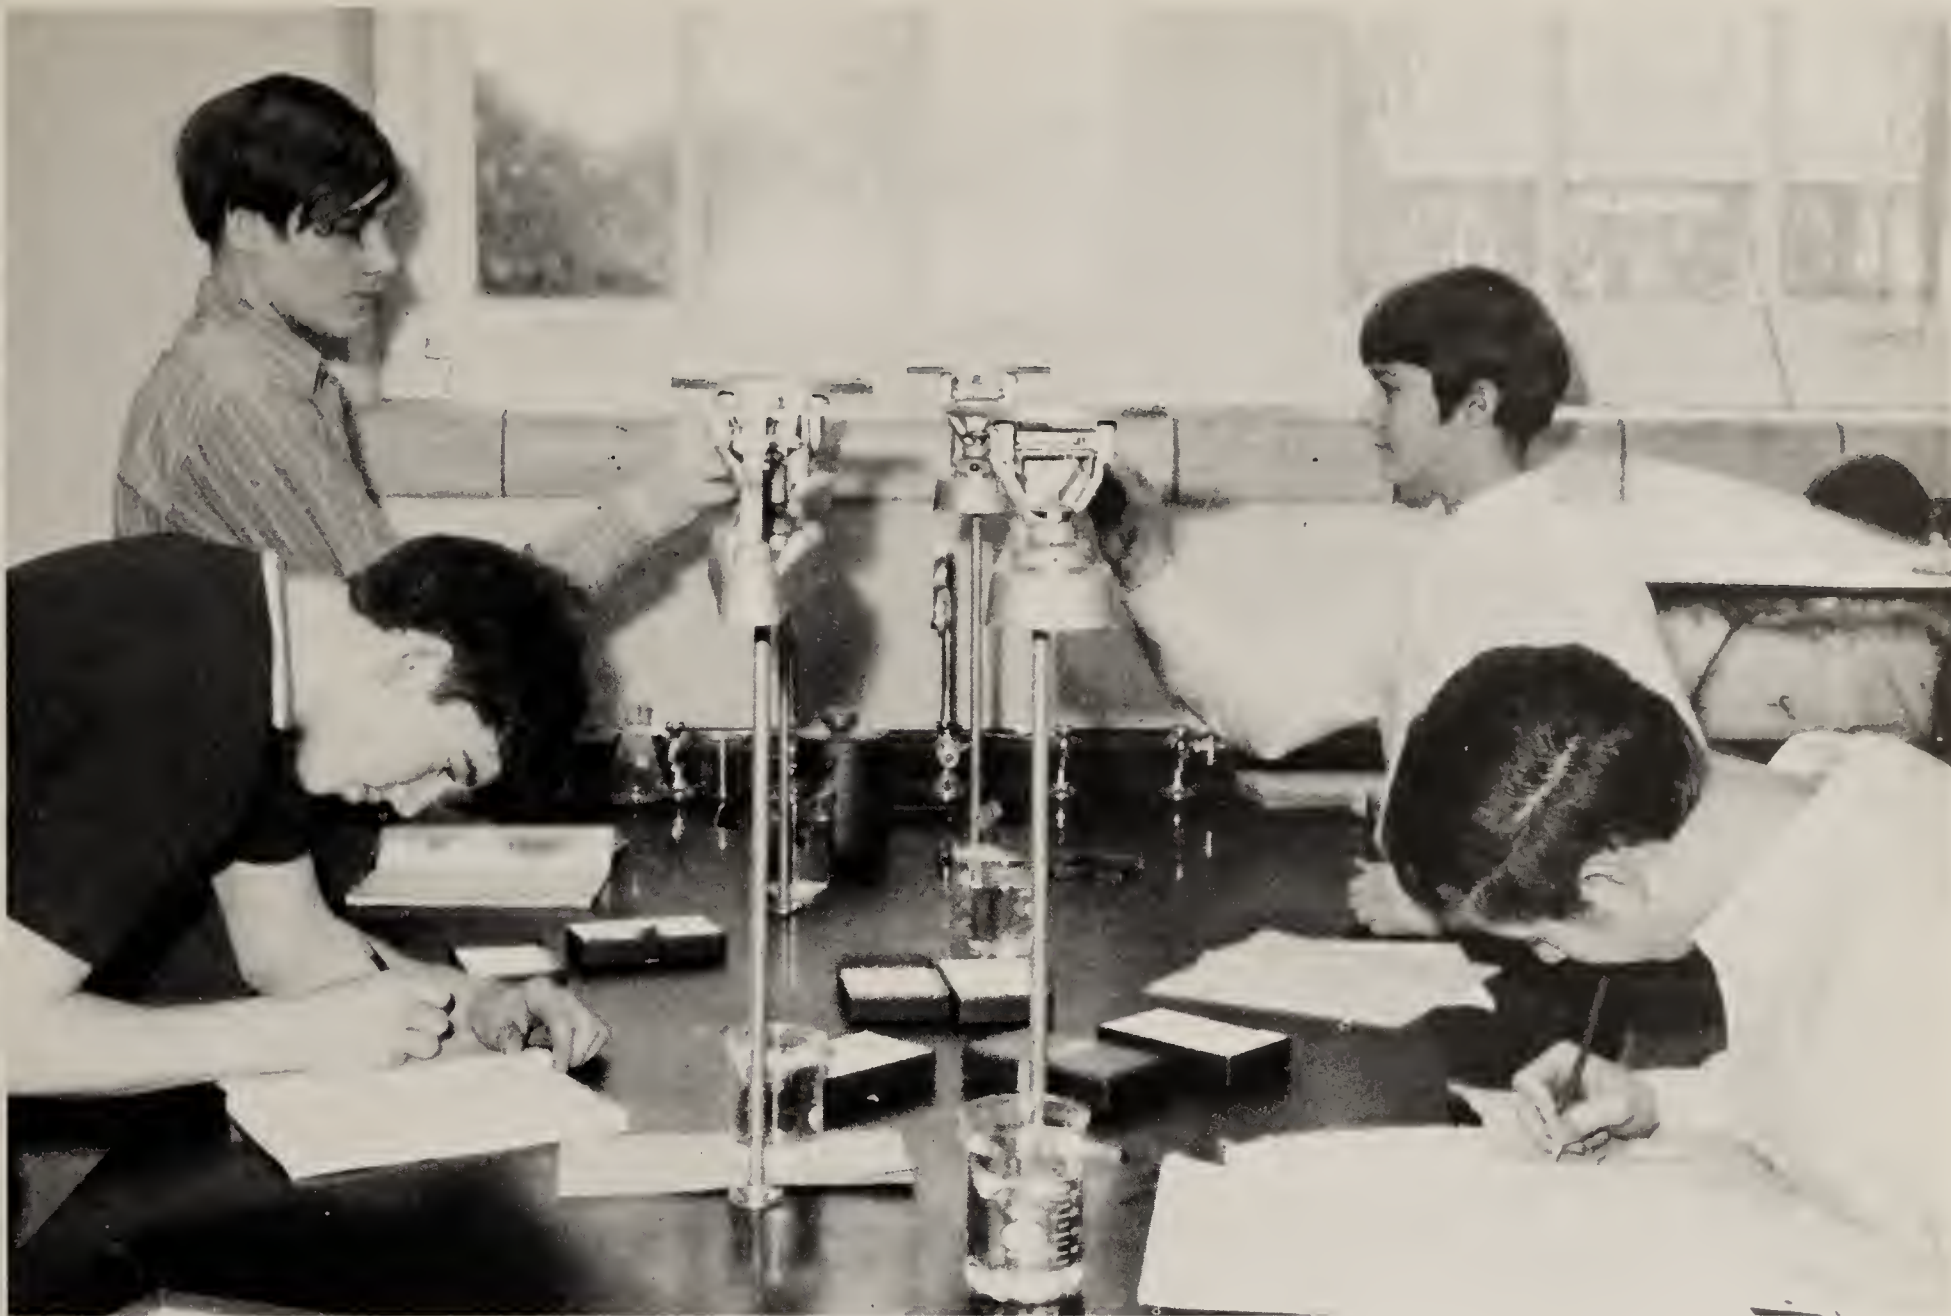

What is science? In a rapidly changing world where technology advances in leaps and bounds, it is the Science Department that instructs to us the basics, laying the groundwork for future surgeons and nuclear physicists.

Along with the usual science courses, interested students are able to work on individual projects in Advanced Biology, or enter the annual science fair. Next year, to meet the desire of concerned students, the department will offer a course in ecology.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS, BUSINESS COURSES LEND STUDENTS FIRST-HAND EXPERIENCE

Practical training and skills are provided by the Industrial Arts Department. The regular curriculum has been rounded out this year by new teaching techniques and equipment. Mr. Sniadecki's new class, Home Repair for Girls, is found to be as profitable as it is entertaining by its students.

The Business Department strives to give the largest possible advantage to its students by offering the greatest possible practical experience. Their course offerings include: typing, shorthand, Business Law, bookkeeping, Office Machines, Business Math, and Business English.

In the area of art, Mr. Neil Robinson set forth a gigantic effort in plans for next year's prospective addition to the school. It will include a new art room, complementing an extraordinary revision in art curriculum, also to be added next year.

GUIDANCE, HEALTH OFFICIALS PRESENT STUDENT BODY WITH MANY HELPFUL DEEDS

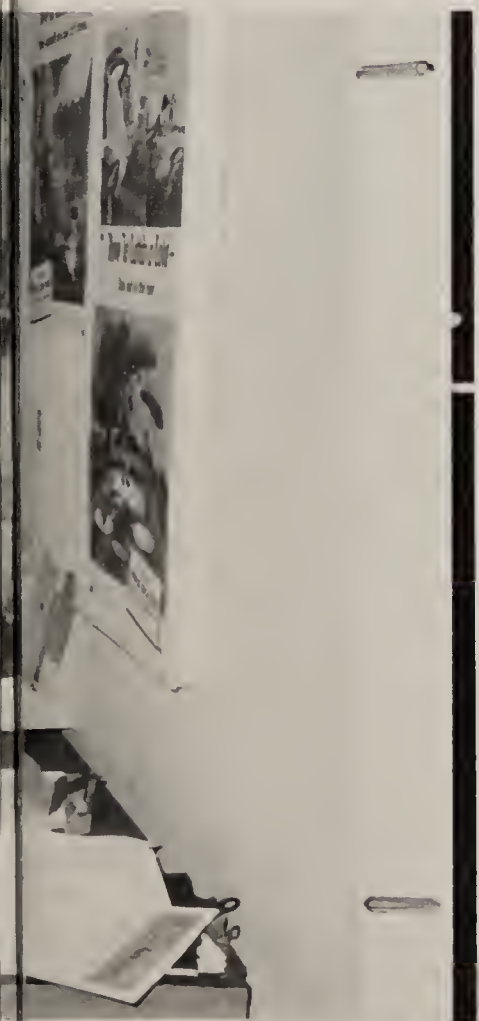

As a junior high guidance counselor, Miss Lautzenhiser's duties include administering tests to the unwilling masses.

What is a guidance counselor? He is someone who will help you arrange your schedule to fit your interests. He will help you decide on occupation or college, comply references, send transcripts, assist you in applying for scholarships, and find a part-time job for you.

Capable advisors are always on hand, and also are involved in numerous projects. During the past year, the Guidance Department initiated an hour-long session in explaining new and different courses to underclassmen, displayed aspects of numerous colleges on their bulletin board, and sponsored many, many representatives of colleges who presented programs to students during the home-room period.

Headache or stomachache, relief is close at hand in the health office, headed by Mrs. Eilene Fulton, school nurse. She has administered many health tests for student during the past school year.

Mrs. Moore came at semester to take over the many burdens of a guidance secretary.

Mrs. Swank and Mrs. Dygert are attributed the never-ending task of checking passes.

STUDIOUS ATMOSPHERE OF SCHOOL RETAINED BY FAITHFUL SECRETARIES, STUDY HALL SUPERVISORS, LIBRARIANS

Numerous student helpers were part-time secretaries this year, assisting regular secretaries in their tedious duties.

The cafeteria and library are the places for studious-minded students to go. A pleasant atmosphere is just a further extension of the advantages afforded to the student in these areas.

These ladies spend many long, tiresome hours with paperwork, attendance sheets, files, and reference facilities. Without their expert know-how, an efficiently-run school plant would soon be very disorganized.

PRINCIPAL DENOON DEBUTS ON THE ADMINISTRATIVE STAFF

Assistant Principal and Athletic Director Mr. Kelley runs through some details with Mr. Sirk.

"Enthusiasm, interest, and desire" are the emotions Mr. DeNoon wants to promote during his first year at AHS. He has helped and cheered on organizations, and is vitally interested in changes in curriculum.

However, the Administration which keeps our system an efficient educational institution is under the guidance of Superintendent Floyd K. McCutchan and the school board, as well as the familiar faces in the office.

One of the highlights during the year past was the NCA evaluation in which teachers and administrators appraised and praised AHS.

Another concern of the Administration is the new addition, which will contain three classrooms, a new art room, and a lecture hall. Construction will begin this spring.

? ACTIVITIES

STUDENT GOVERNMENT ABOLISHES DRESS CODE, PRESIDENT

Abolishing the dress code, getting programs for Student Activities Days, and helping plan this year's Homecoming and Sadie Hawkins Dance were just a few of the many things done by this year's Student Council.

During the summer, several meetings were held to plan and decide on the upcoming year's dress code. Various high schools were written to find out if not having a dress code had worked for them. Finally, it was approved and the no dress code was passed and put into effect.

Student Activities Days this year were again a success. The normal day of activities was made into a full day and all but two periods of another day. Greg Hamilton headed the committee for Student Activities Days, which along with President Holcomb and the rest of the student council members programs were found to fill the needed time space to have the extra length in Activities Days.

ALPINE VILLAGE' PROJECT OF HI-Y, RANSBURG CHOSEN KING

Hi-Y, a Christian organization for young men in high school, kept busy this year with its many activities.

One of the main projects of Hi-Y in 1970 was the Christmas Prom. The members spent many long hours planning and decorating for the dance, whose theme was, "An Alpine Village."

This year, as usual, the boys in Hi-Y conducted the annual gathering of Christmas trees after the holiday season.

In the spring, many of its members participated in the Youth and Government Program; Greg Hamilton and Doug Deller were elected to state offices in the Model Legislature.

Randy Hammond adds the finishing touches to a "wall" of Alpine Village — the 1970 winter prom. When decorations were completed, many dazzling snowflakes adorned the walls, a sleigh graced the scene, and a quaint Alpine cafe provided refreshment for dancers that night.

A record 900 pounds of traditional Y-Teen cookies were produced and sold in November by members of this YWCA organization, in addition to numerous other projects.

A UNICEF trick-or-treating session, monthly birthday parties at the County Home, and clothing collections for the needy constituted a few of many service projects. The annual Pa-Ma-Me Banquet was held, with a theme of "Remember When?" and a senior swing-out rounded out the year.

GAA, an organization for energetic high school coeds, packed many sports into each season. Teams were formed in volleyball, basketball, gymnastics, bowling, track, and golf.

Excursions for the club involved the annual ski trip in March, a trip to Ft. Wayne to see gymnastics champions, and a campout.

A successful play involves many rehearsals.

THESPIANS PROMOTE THEATER ARTS

Thespians is an organization promoting greater interest and knowledge in the theater arts. President for the 1970-71 school year was Sally Hammel. She presided over the meetings, aided and abetted by Mr. Vaughn and Miss Smith. The Thespians not only provided actors for the plays, but formed committees for makeup, lights, sets, usherettes, costumes, and publicity.

"Finian's Rainbow" was the fall musical, a combination of the energies of the dramatic and music departments. The three student-directed plays were, "It's Cold in Them Thar Hills," "If Boys Ask Girls," and "A Laugh in the Dark."

Thespians is the confusion of the dressing rooms and the formality of initiation.

A VIGOROUS PEP CLUB ESTABLISHES NEW REGULATIONS FOR SPIRIT-BOUND MEMBERS

Enthusiasm, "pep", a few tears and a lot of laughs are some of the ingredients found in Pep Club.

Sponsor and officers combined their efforts, renovated old laws, and came up with a new Pep Club constitution and uniforms.

Members also worked for points by attending games and making booster signs; the girl achieving the greatest number of points was to be awarded a plaque at the end of the year. Uniforms consisted of "gold" sweaters, dark skirts, and a Hornet pom pon.

Decorating for the Sectional, Pep Club instituted a sign-production contest, causing competition within each class. The entire school plant was wallpapered with posters and crepe paper.

LATIN, SPANISH, FRENCH CLUBS INDUCE MONEY-MAKING

The basic purpose of Latin Club is to gain a more thorough knowledge of Roman life and a background in Roman history and literature. The Latin Banquet was one of the main activities of the club. The selling of Christmas decorations and penny pitch for WOWO were also carried on by members.

French Club meets monthly to discuss projects, such as initiation — and to see slides of France. Members also initiated correspondence with students in Bierres, France.

"Get out and raise money" was the motivating phrase for members of the year's Spanish Club. To raise money for the Spring fiesta, girls switched places with guys for a game of tackle football. In addition, candy and candles were also sold by the club.

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS CLUB ENJOYS FIRST YEAR, WHILE FTA CONTINUES TO MARCH ON

Members of Future Homemakers of America are dedicated to improving personal, family, and community living. This year's projects included making Christmas angels for hospitals and nursing homes, making and selling pom poms, and a dinner for members and their guests. The club's first year has been a promising beginning.

Future Teachers of America aids students to discover if they have the characteristics, interest, and ability to prepare for one of the many careers in education. Most of the members have been provided with realistic circumstances, assisting elementary teachers at Hendry Park School.

HORNET, KEY, ODYSSEY RESULTS OF JOURNALISTIC INTERESTS

Aided by the addition of the school's own newspaper press at mid-year, the HORNET was introduced with a new format, including physical and content changes.

This new printing process enabled each journalism student to further experience the actual typing, layout, and proofreading phases of a professional newspaper.

Despite financial difficulties, the 50th edition of the KEY underwent production by a revised system. Selected students from the upper three grades attended a special 7:30 a.m. class allocated for the specific purpose of learning better fundamentals of producing yearbooks.

The ODYSSEY, a literary magazine, is also compiled by student contributors. Two editions were published during the course of the year, edited by Richard Kinsey and printed by the Graphic Arts classes.

COOPERATIVE EDUCATION PROMPTS EARNING, LEARNING

A program designed to give high school juniors and seniors special training and income simultaneously, Cooperative Education is sponsored by Mr. Jeff Heier. Students spend one-half of the school day in classes, including a special course for the program's purpose, and the remaining half of the day at the job of their choice.

Fund-raising projects were executed during the school year of 1970-71, including a cake raffle, which was situated at an AHS home basketball game; and the selling of candy apples to fans during the football season.

'I HEAR AMERICA SINGING' FINISHES EVENTFUL YEAR

Numerous concert performances were in line for the 1970-71 high school choir. Plus the regular Christmas and spring programs, the concert choir appeared at a community Thanksgiving meeting and two joint concerts with the band.

"I Hear America Singing" constituted the theme for the spring concert, and this idea was stressed throughout. The high school choir opened and ended the program, hitting on numbers that illustrated patriotism and the average American way of life.

A fast-moving program, it featured typical music of the U.S. at both extremes.

This year ended the high school career of Miss Anne Birchman, who has accompanied the concert choir for five years.

Under the direction of Mr. Barry Frisinger, the Hornet Marching Band improved their performances throughout the football season. This was primarily due to a long-remembered one-week session for the entire band at Limberlost Camp at the end of the summer.

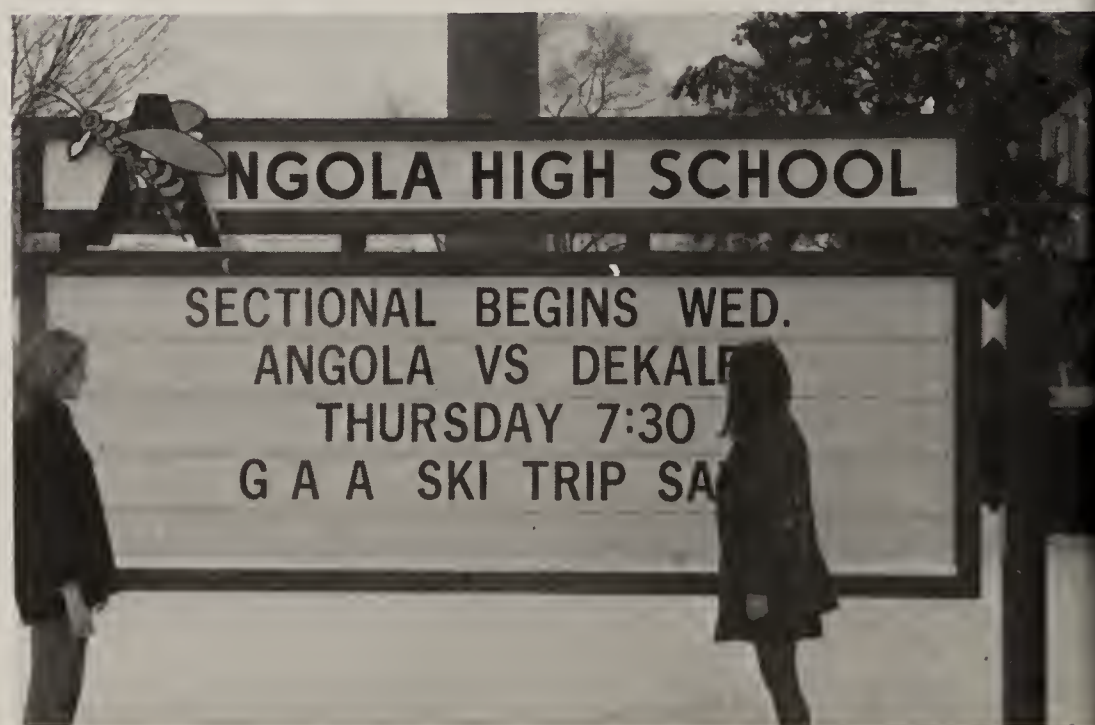

A first place rating at the annual NISBOVA contest was just barely missed by the band. Feature twirlers were Susie Kelley and Jill Simons. Drum Major; John Stevens.

SENIORS SUPPLY PUNCH FOR 1970 GRID SEASON

Under the power of Randy Plank's pass, Bill Lonsbury ducks as Sam Sisler appears to be ready for the opponent.

JAMBOREE

Angola, the host field . . . the Hornets, Garrett, East Noble, Bluffton . . . second quarter: Angola vs. East Noble . . . a rebuilt Hornet team on the field, gaining experience . . . a loss, by seven points, in their first battle.

SOUTH ADAMS

First regular season game, at home . . . a scoreless beginning quarter . . . inability of either team to move the ball . . . South Adams pushing two touchdowns over in the second and fourth quarters. South Adams 14, Angola 0.

DEKALB

Plank, the senior quarterback injured and out of play . . . Hemrick substituting . . . the first away game of the season . . . an unfamiliar field . . . two 70-yard runs by the Baron offense for touchdowns. DeKalb 23, Angola 0.

LAKELAND

Back on the home field, with Hornet scores in each of the last three periods . . . our defense holding the Lakers to 118 total yards . . . three successful one-point conversions by Powers . . . first shut-out by Angola in two years. Angola 21, Lakeland 0.

GARRETT

Angola, the "underdogs" . . . a home game . . . two chances for the Hornets to score . . . Mark Moore's 40-yard race into the end zone after picking up a Railroader fumble . . . 16 tackles for Smith, 15 for Leininger . . . a two-point conversion from Plank to Holland . . . another victory for the undefeated Railroaders. Garrett 28, Angola 8.

BLUFFTON

An Away game . . . Plank passing for three touchdowns and running for the other . . . the gruesome Hornet defense stopping Bluffton on their first drive . . . trading touchdowns the entire game . . . a 20-20 tie with one minute left . . . a pass to Lonsbury from ten yards out winning the game. Angola 27, Bluffton 20.

PRAIRIE HEIGHTS

Drenching sheets of rain . . . four inches of mud on the Prairie Heights field . . . scoreless first half . . . a Panther TD, but no extra point . . . Plank finding Holland in the fourth quarter for the end zone score, plus a powers kick . . . Smith's 80-yard touchdown run called back by a penalty . . . a Panther heart-stopping TD attempt at the last second, failing. Angola 7, Prairie Heights 6.

EAST NOBLE

A Homecoming crown . . . E. Noble dominating the first half of play with two TDs . . . halftime activities with queen-crowning and a marching band show . . . another score by the Knights after resumption of play . . . a good drive down the field for a Hornet score . . . but still, our first Homecoming upset in two years. East Noble 22, Angola 8.

BELLMONT

An away game . . . the Braves scoring fourteen points during the first half of play . . . Banta running a 45-yard draw play, Holland catching a 30-yard pass, both for scores . . . a two-point conversion . . . 15-14, Angola's favor . . . one minute left . . . a Bellmont field goal in the last five second ruining a Hornet victory. Bellmont 17, Angola 15.

HERITAGE

Angola, the underdogs, against the Patriot's sparkling one-loss record . . . a Hornet first quarter score on a 35-yard draw play by Lonsbury . . . rough going for the Heritage offense . . . two TD passes in the second quarter to Powers and Holland . . . another 25-yard scoring pass in the third . . . Lonsbury, with 22 tackles. Angola 28, Heritage 13.

Mark Moore zooms 40 yards for a defensive touchdown against Garrett.

ABUNDANT TIE MEETS SPUR VARSITY WRESTLING

Much individual strength, stamina, and leverage is required of an AHS wrestler, as Rick Penix so avidly demonstrates.

EXCITEMENT FOR FANS

An AHS matman seems to be "on top of things" and receives points at this particular stage of the match.

Coach Simon calls a conference. The squad will only be losing one varsity member, Sam Sisler, so prospects for next season look strong.

Top scorers were Randy Plank, with 297 total points, Reid Mocherman with 254, and Tom Bender with 181.

BEE BASKETBALL GAINS EXPERIENCE FOR NEXT YEAR

A "C" team member, Gary Bender reaches for the ball.

BEE SQUAD: (front) Lavon Stomm, Bruce Gibson, Ron Parker, Mike Martin, Robert Bal, Rolla Frisinger. (back) Mr. Maugherman, Reg Steele, Dennis Mow, Bill Milhollin, Todd Bledsoe, Tom Sanborn, Joe White.

Is this how you tell your boys it should be done, Mr. Maugherman?

Dick Powers rejects a defensive attempt by the opposing team.

With a quick, precise, effort, Joe White lets one fly.

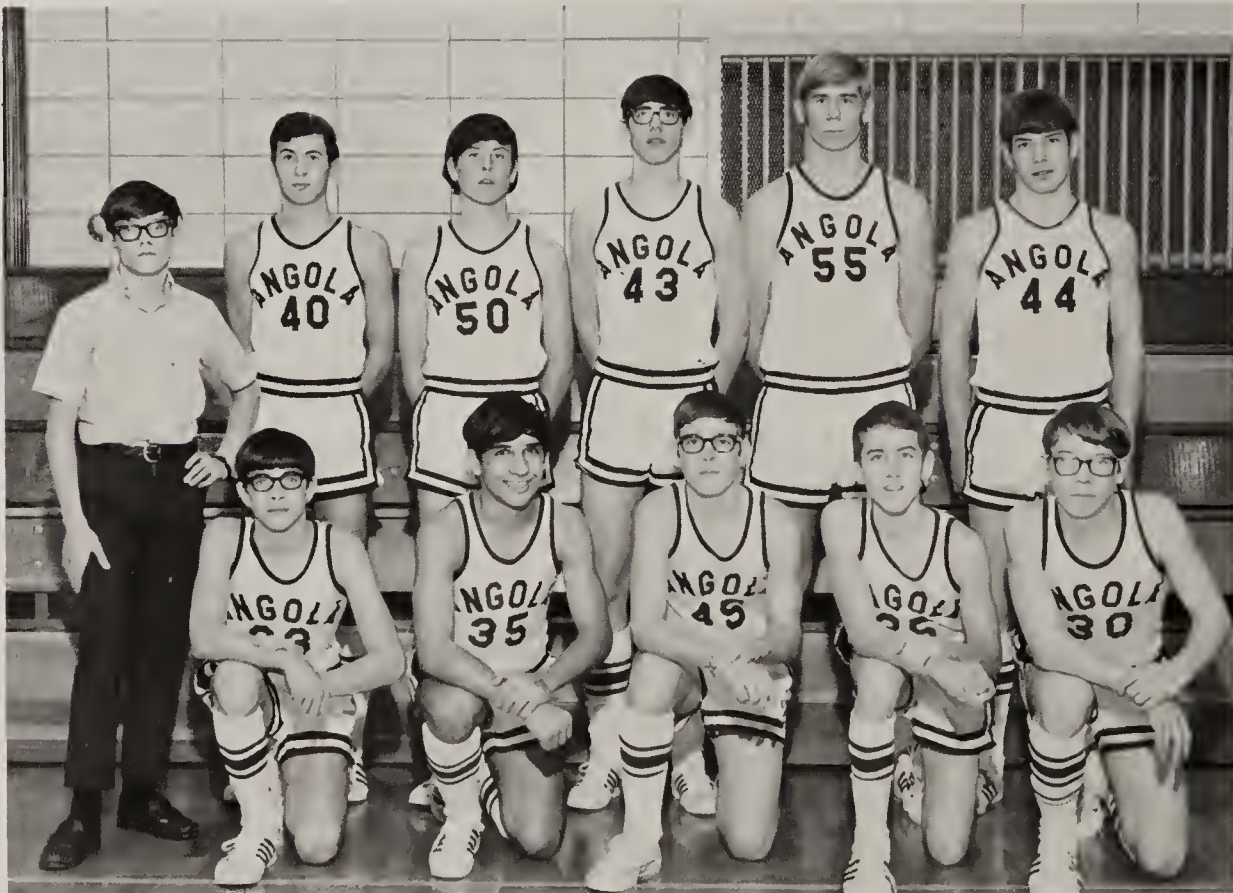

The bench always contains emotions, directions, and hope.

VARSITY GYMNASTICS TEAM IS YOUNG AND IMPROVING

Hampered by injury most of the season, senior Jerry Sanders proves his worth.

Unbelievable stamina and muscular ability are required when performing this seemingly-simple stunt.

VARSITY TEAM: Bill Fee, Rick Ritter, Mike Holcomb, Jerry Sanders, Mike Wenzel, Tom Brown, Bob Johnson, Brad Moore, John Carney, Joe Neff, Jim Myers. Kneeling: Coach Nesbitt.

Gymnast Joe Neff travelled to the State Meet with performances as the one above, and below.

A handstand executed on the even parallel bars is not an easy position to hold, but Joe proves why he qualified for the State.

'INDIVIDUAL DEVELOPMENT OF BOYS ENCOURAGING'

This AHS gymnast has just begun to go through the paces of his routine.

Tension mounts as he performs: will this routine receive a perfect score?

COMMENTS COACH NESBITT

Performers must be as accurate as humanly possible, in order to receive better scores.

Tumbling routines are timed, so the gymnast must use his time wisely.

Practice is essential for success, especially on the high bar.

AFTERWORDS . . .

May 31, 1971

Readers:

I'm not going to sit here at my typewriter telling you that it's been a wonderful and nicey-nice experience being editor of this yearbook. It hasn't. Many headaches and a lot of worry went into the plan and production of the KEY.

HOWEVER, now that the completion of the very last page will be made with this letter, the world begins to be seen through my rosy-colored glasses again. Instead of sour memories of long, painful, tiring hours of planning and layouts and typing (of which a trace still lingers) the satisfaction and enjoyment of finished, correct and fairly decent work remains.

I'd like to single out a few people without whom the 1971 KEY would have folded flat:

Mr. Richard Servis, who patiently and faithfully guided us through our journalistic perils,

Richard Artz, our head photographer. Excluding the class pictures, over 90% of the photography in this book is his work — and that includes hours upon hours of developing, too,

Linda Goldinger, who diligently assisted me in times of dire stress,

The Administration, which sponsored me to the summer workshop in Detroit,

Our advertisers, who cordially patronized our fund,

Mr. Garvice Clark, who aided us with professional photography.

My sincere thanks go to each of the above.

As is typical of most publications, the vast majority of the work was concentrated in a short period of time before our deadline. Even so, many of the KEY staff members did a very fine job in putting together their assigned sections and I appreciate these efforts, which, in many cases, involved giving up their extra time in which I know they would have rather been doing something else. For a group which had never been familiar with this type of work, I am very pleased with the results.

It has been an honor for me to be editor of the 50th edition of the KEY — and I hope that you enjoy reading it.
